The primary typeface for the brand is Untitled Sans. Headlines can be set in either medium or regular weight. Body copy is set in regular weight. Specifications for type size relationships and line height can be found on the left.

The default typefaces for the brand are used in programs that don't allow custom typography (Ex: Google Slides). In these instances, use Arial in bold and regular weight.

GT America is a tertiary typeface for the brand. It can be used for section headings, captions, and other small details. Specifications for size relationships and line height can be found on the left. The default replacement for this typeface is Courier New Bold.
